

inquiring minds + flexible thinking = school libraries

The State Library of Victoria is the state's premier reference and research library and a gateway to the world's information. The Library is committed to supporting lifelong learning for all Victorians through active engagement in their history and the world of books, knowledge and ideas.

To mark International School Libraries Day 2007, The State Library of Victoria invites SLAV members to celebrate school libraries and explore the future with them!

When Monday 22 October 2007, from 10.00am
Where State Library of Victoria
Cost $100.00 per person (limited to 80 participants)

Imagine the future

Spaces for inquiring minds and flexible thinking

- join eminent panelists as they explore the purpose, shape and future of school libraries,

Visit virtual spaces

Online Learning Space

insideadog

Inkys

- SLV expert personnel introduce you to these exciting initiatives and demonstrate the support that they provide to you in your role in developing inquiring minds and flexible thinking,

See real libraries

Case studies of new and renovated school library spaces

- Let the technology-rich environment of Experimedia bring you a visual feast of ideas that will inspire your school library space,

Explore treasures

Learning programs and exhibitions

- SLV education personnel immerse you in the programs that your students can experience and take you on guided tours of the current exhibitions.

Celebrate your day and the launch of SLAV's latest publication, Rethink! Ideas for inspiring school library design!

I am interested in attending this activity. Please forward a registration form to:

surname _____ given name _____.

school/organisation _____.

address _____ potscode _____.

Please complete and fax this form to the School Library Association of Victoria
(03) 9349 4437